

State Census Records

Genealogical Research Series Pamphlet No. 5

This PAMPHLET ONE IN A SERIES DESIGNED TO ASSIST THE GENEALOGICAL RESEARCHER in using the most pertinent of related federal, state, and local governmental records in the possession of the Illinois State Archives and its Illinois Regional Archives Depository (IRAD) system. This pamphlet concerns state censuses.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

The Illinois Constitution of 1818 required that a state census be taken in 1820 and every fifth year thereafter to determine apportionment of representation in the General Assembly. The state Constitution of 1848 accepted the federal decennial censuses as the bases for apportionment but also provided for state censuses at mid-decades. Thus, state censuses were conducted in 1855 and 1865. The Illinois Constitution of 1870 ended the practice of state censuses when it established the federal decennial censuses as the sole guide to reapportionment.

State censuses were taken in 1820, 1825, 1830, 1835, 1840, 1845, 1855, and 1865. Unfortunately, only the 1820, 1855, and 1865 ones have survived reasonably intact. Most of the county returns for 1825, 1830, 1835, and 1845 are missing and nearly half of the 1840 state census is lost.

RECORD CONTENTS

State censuses list only the name of the head of each household. Other inhabitants simply were tallied. All the state censuses listed below are available on microfilm for consultation at the Illinois State Archives in Springfield.

1820 Record Series 103.002. STATE CENSUS. 2 vols. Index.

Each county return includes the name of county, and for each household the name of the head of household and numbers of free white males age 21 and older, other white inhabitants, slaves and servants, and free Negroes and mulattoes. Returns are included for 18 of 19 counties existing at that time:

Alexander	Gallatin	Monroe	Washington
Bond	Jackson	Pope	Wayne
Clark	Jefferson	Randolph	White
Crawford	Johnson	St. Clair
Franklin	Madison	Union

*Only Edwards County is missing.

Census was edited, indexed, and published in Margaret Cross Norton, ed., Illinois Census Returns: 1820 in Theodore Calvin Pease, ed., Collections of the Illinois State Historical Library, Statistical Series, III (Springfield, 1934).

1825 Record Series 103.003. STATE CENSUS. 0.1 cu. ft. and 1 microfilm roll. Index.

Each county return includes the name of county and the names or legal descriptions of legal subdivisions contained in the county (e.g., townships, towns, villages). Under each of these categories entries for each household include the name of head of household; number of free white males age 21 and older, including heads of families; number of free white males under age 21, including heads of families; number of free white females, including heads of families; numbers of male and female servants and slaves, and free persons of color; and type (e.g., mill, distillery) and number of manufacturing establishments. Returns are included for three of 43 counties existing at that time: Edwards, Fulton, and Randolph.

1830 Record Series 103.004. STATE CENSUS. 1 partial microfilm reel. Index.
 Each county return includes the name of county, and for each household the name of the head of household; numbers of white males and females in each decennial age group (e.g., ages 0–9, 10–19, 20–29); numbers of male and female Negroes and mulattoes, indentured or registered servants, and French Negroes and mulattoes held in bondage; total number of inhabitants in the household; number of males subject to duty in the state militia; and type (e.g., gristmill) and number of manufacturing establishments. Of the 51 counties existing at that time, the only return included is for Morgan County.

1835 Record Series 103.005. STATE CENSUS. 2 partial microfilm reels. Index.
 Each county return includes the name of county, and for each household the name of the head of household; numbers of free white males and females in each decennial age group (e.g., ages 0–9, 10–19, 20–29); numbers of male and female Negroes and mulattoes, indentured or registered servants and their children, and French Negroes and mulattoes held in bondage; total number of inhabitants in household; number of males subject to duty in state militia; and type (e.g., gristmill) and number of manufacturing establishments. Returns are included for five of 60 counties existing at that time: Fayette, Fulton, Jasper, Morgan, and Putnam.

1840 Record Series 103.006. STATE CENSUS. 3 microfilm reels and 3 partial microfilm reels. Index.
 Each county return includes the name of county and occasionally the names or legal descriptions of legal subdivisions contained in counties (e.g., townships, cities, villages). Under each of these categories entries for each household include the name of head of household; numbers of free white males and females in each decennial age group (e.g., ages 0–9, 10–19, 20–29); numbers of male and female Negroes and mulattoes, indentured and registered servants and their children, and French Negroes and mulattoes held in bondage; number of males subject to duty in the state militia; total number of inhabitants in the household; and type (e.g., sawmill, gristmill) and number of manufacturing establishments. Returns are included for 38 of 87 counties existing at that time:

FINDING YOUR ANCESTORS

RESEARCHING ON YOUR OWN

The Name Index to Early Illinois Records, located in the Archives card catalog aisle, includes entries for heads of households for state censuses through 1855. Filed separately, the index for the 1865 state census currently covers 70 counties. Because volunteers are in the process of indexing the remaining counties, an updated list should be requested at the reference desk. Index citations will enable the genealogist to reference original entries in the state censuses. The Archives also has a collection of published indexes to state censuses. Issued by local genealogical societies, these indexes cite heads of households of particular counties for various census years. Archives staff can provide a list of these published indexes.

MAIL, TELEPHONE AND INTERNET REQUESTS

In searching state censuses Archives staff members require the census year, the full name of the head of the household, that person's county residence and, if possible, the township. The 1865 census counties not yet indexed will be searched if the researcher can provide all of the above information. For this census reference staff cannot perform searches of cities exceeding 2,500 persons that have not been indexed. If a subject's name is found, the Archives will furnish the genealogist an uncertified and unofficial photocopy of the census page on which it appears. Because of limitations on staff research time, the Archives can research no more than two searches per inquiry.
